Small footprint, mighty performance — the Aero Mini PC brings serious computing power to the spaces where big towers simply won't fit.

A workspace that works around you

The Aero Mini PC sits neatly on your desk, tucks behind a monitor, or slots into a tight cabinet, turning cramped corners into productive stations. It runs quietly and sips power, so it keeps your environment calm, cool, and clutter-free — ideal for busy offices, reception desks, and home studies where every centimetre counts.

Built for the demands of everyday business

Whether you're running a busy shop floor, managing a hotel front desk, or powering digital signage in a lobby, this machine handles multiple tasks without breaking a sweat. Its responsive Intel Core Ultra processor keeps spreadsheets, presentations, and web apps moving swiftly, so you spend less time waiting and more time getting things done.

Connectivity without compromise

With two wired network ports, the Aero Mini PC makes light work of secure setups, VPNs, and network segmentation — perfect for finance, healthcare, and any role that prizes reliable, protected connections. Add dual-band wireless networking and you can hop between wired and Wi-Fi with ease, keeping your workflow uninterrupted wherever you are.

Ready for the long haul

Built with a durable powder-coated housing and engineered to run 24/7 in normal office conditions, the Aero Mini PC is a dependable partner for daily operations. Windows 11 Professional comes pre-installed, giving you familiar tools, strong security, and seamless compatibility with the software your business already uses.

If you're looking for a compact, dependable PC that fits into real-world workspaces without compromise, the Aero Mini PC is the sensible choice. It's the quiet, capable workhorse your desk has been waiting for.
