The Neo R/4: Compact power, ready for anything.

Built for the real world

This isn't just another mini PC. The Thinvent Neo R/4 is a resilient, purpose-built workhorse designed to drive your critical applications silently and reliably. Its robust steel construction and fanless design mean it thrives in demanding environments where dust, vibration, and constant operation are the norm.

Why it works for you

- Deploy a dependable digital signage player, point-of-sale terminal, or thin client that won't let you down.
- Power through office productivity, light design work, and server hosting with smooth, responsive performance.

- Simplify your setup with dual Ethernet ports for network redundancy or connecting two separate networks.
- Get to work immediately with a complete out-of-the-box solution including keyboard, mouse, and the stability of Ubuntu Linux.
- Save precious space and energy with a remarkably compact footprint and efficient operation.

The Neo R/4 delivers focused computing power where you need it most, without fuss or fanfare. It's the steadfast, professional choice for businesses that value durability and seamless integration over unnecessary complexity.
