Big performance, pint-sized practicality – the quiet workhorse for your workspace.

Meet the Neo R/4, a compact computer that brings serious reliability to desks, shop floors and front counters alike. Engineered by Thinvent for demanding everyday use, it keeps up with your busy schedule without taking up half your desk or testing your patience.

Power when you need it

- Responds quickly to everyday tasks, from email and spreadsheets to web-based business tools
- Handles multiple open windows and applications without a fuss, so you can keep working without lag
- Boots up swiftly, meaning less waiting and more doing

Built to last

- Housed in a tough steel chassis with a powder-coated finish that shrugs off scratches, dust and knocks
- Designed for continuous operation in warm, busy environments, so it stays reliable hour after hour

- Compact and robust, perfect for tucked-away installations where standard desktops would struggle

Made for real environments

- Ideal for retail counters, hospitality check-ins, factory floors and medical reception areas
- A great fit for digital signage, thin client setups, or as a dependable point-of-sale engine
- Works just as well as a no-nonsense home office computer that simply gets on with the job

Secure and professional

- Comes with Windows 11 Professional, giving you familiar tools, robust security and flexible management options
- Keeps your data safer with enterprise-grade features
