Unleash industrial power from a tiny footprint.

The Engine for Demanding Environments

Forget bulky towers. The Neo R/4 packs a serious punch in a rugged, space-saving design. It delivers the reliable, high-performance computing you need for critical operations without the clutter or complexity.

Built to Work Where You Do

This isn't an office PC in disguise. It's engineered from the ground up for the real world. The robust steel housing shrugs off dust and vibration, while wide operating tolerances ensure flawless performance in challenging conditions. Dual LAN ports provide essential network redundancy, and legacy serial connectivity keeps your existing equipment seamlessly online.

Simplify Your Operations

Experience true plug-and-play reliability. With a pre-installed, streamlined Windows IoT operating system, the Neo R/4 boots up ready for dedicated, long-term service. Its compact size and versatile mounting options let you deploy it virtually anywhere—behind a monitor, on a wall, or integrated directly into your machinery.

Empower Your Edge

Transform data into decisive action. Whether you're automating a production line, managing a digital signage network, or running complex point-of-sale systems, the Neo R/4 provides the dependable, always-on computing backbone that keeps your business moving forward.
