Small footprint, mighty performance – the quiet workhorse your business deserves.

Meet the Thinvent Neo R/4, a compact desktop that punches well above its weight. Tucked discreetly on a desk, behind a screen or beneath a counter, it frees up valuable workspace while delivering the kind of smooth, responsive computing that keeps your team moving. No more waiting, no more stuttering – just dependable, everyday productivity from a trusted British-built brand.

Why choose the Neo R/4

- It is built for the demands of the modern workplace, from busy front offices to bustling retail floors and industrial control rooms
- The powerful AMD processor handles spreadsheets, web applications, accounting packages and business software with effortless ease
- Windows 11 Professional arrives pre-installed, so you can plug in, sign in and get straight down to work
- A complete Thinvent keyboard and mouse set is included, making this a true out-of-the-box solution

- For organisations that prefer secure, hardwired connectivity, the Neo R/4 is ready for reliable gigabit networking without the clutter or interference of wireless
- Its robust, powder-coated steel housing shrugs off the knocks and bumps of daily use, while the efficient design runs cool and quiet even during long shifts
- From digital signage and point-of-sale to data entry, telephony and light edge computing, this versatile mini PC adapts to your workspace, not the other way round

When you choose the Neo R/4, you are investing in reliability, simplicity and long-term value. Backed by Thinvent's commitment to quality and certification, it is a smart, straightforward alternative to ageing desktop towers or under-powered laptops.

Give your workspace a tidy, powerful centrepiece that won't let you down. The Thinvent Neo R/4 is the professional's choice for no-nonsense computing that simply works – day in, day out.
