Simplify your workspace without sacrificing power.

The Thinvent Uno 21.5" All in One PC is built for professionals who demand reliable performance in a sleek, space-saving design. Whether you're managing a reception desk, running a retail point-of-sale, or setting up a medical workstation, this machine delivers the computing muscle you need in a single, tidy unit.

Say goodbye to tangled cables and bulky towers. The Uno's integrated design frees up valuable desk real estate while providing a crisp, full-HD display with wide viewing angles – perfect for collaborative work or client-facing environments. The height-adjustable stand ensures every user finds their ideal ergonomic position, reducing strain during long shifts.

Stay connected and productive with built-in dual-band WiFi, which keeps you online without the hassle of wired connections. Need to make a video call? The discreet pop-up camera tucks away when not in use, protecting your privacy while adding a touch of elegance.

Every detail is engineered for the real world. The robust aluminium and steel housing withstands the knocks of busy settings, while the efficient AMD processor handles multiple applications with ease – from inventory management to digital signage playback. And with a low-voltage power supply, it runs cool and quiet, even in cramped spaces.

Choose the Thinvent Uno for a clean, professional setup that works as hard as you do. Ready to run your own operating system, it offers the flexibility to integrate seamlessly into your existing IT environment. Upgrade your workspace today with a computer that puts performance and practicality right where you need them.
