The workhorse that puts a powerful desktop where you need it most.

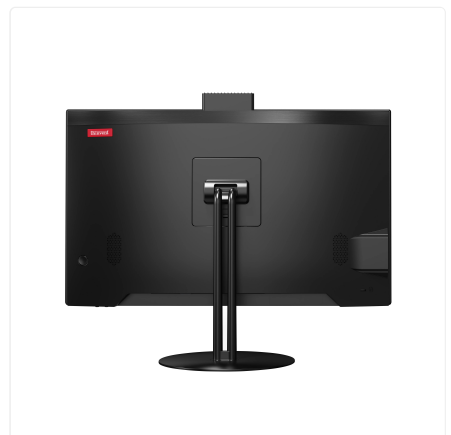

Built for the front line of your business

- Replace cluttered setups with a single, sleek 23.8-inch display that packs genuine AMD Ryzen performance
- Designed for demanding environments like factory floors, retail counters, and hospital wards where uninterrupted uptime is non-negotiable
- The integrated height-adjustable stand lets operators find the perfect viewing angle, reducing strain during long shifts
- Powered by a low-voltage 12V adapter, it runs cool and quiet even in tight, ventilated spaces
- Thinux Embedded Linux provides a secure, virus-resistant foundation that boots fast and stays stable for years without constant updates or licensing worries
- Built-in remote management tools like VNC shadowing and browser-based control mean your IT team can support users from anywhere, slashing downtime
- Pre-loaded with LibreOffice, Chromium, and multimedia playback so users can handle spreadsheets, web apps, and training videos straight out of the box

- A pop-up webcam adds privacy and convenience for video calls without cluttering the screen

Why choose the Uno for your operation?

- Eliminate the headache of separate tower PCs and tangled cables – this all-in-one saves desk space and simplifies maintenance
- With solid-state storage and no moving parts in the core drive, it shrugs off vibration and accidental bumps that would kill a traditional desktop
- The aluminium alloy and steel housing is built to resist knocks and spills in busy public or industrial settings
- It gives you the reliability of an embedded system with the versatility of a full desktop OS, ready for point-of-sale, digital signage, or office productivity
- Backed by Thinvent's commitment to long-life supply and industrial-grade components, it's a platform you can standardise on for years to come
